

Call for Abstracts – Frequently Asked Questions

I have submitted an abstract to present as an oral presentation. Can I be listed as a co-author on submissions being made by others?

Yes.

How long should my abstract be?

Your abstract can be a maximum of 250 words.

When do abstract submissions close?

Abstract submissions close on Monday 9 January 2017 for Carbon 2017 and Thursday 23 March 2017 for all other RACI Centenary Congress partner conferences.

Can I submit more than one abstract?

Yes, however you are limited to a maximum of five (5) abstracts per person across all RACI Centenary Congress partner conferences, including no more than three (3) oral presentations.

Can I submit the same abstract more than once but to different 2017 RACI Centenary Congress events?

No, an abstract can only be submitted once.

Can I edit my abstract?

Yes, you may view and edit your abstract in the Presenters' Portal up until the submission closing date.

When will I be notified of my abstract's status?

All authors will be notified of their abstract's status by April 2017.

Do I need to register to have my abstract/s accepted?

Yes, all accepted authors are expected to register and pay to attend the event they have submitted an abstract for by the early bird deadline of 23 April 2017. You can either register to attend the full RACI Centenary Congress, or register to attend only the individual event.

If I have any other enquiries about my abstract, who do I contact?
